UNITED STATES ARMY GARRISON AREA I/2D
INFANTRY DIVISION ARMY COMMUNITY
SERVICE UNIT #15543 APO AP 96224-0453

Location..... : NORTHWESTERN
SOUTH KOREA

Major Command..... : 2D INFANTRY
DIVISION

Area I and the 2d Infantry Division (2ID) area is a non-command sponsored area located in the North western section of the Republic of Korea. Located within this area of approximately 700 square miles are 42 installations/compounds. All soldiers arriving in this area are processed through the Warrior Replacement Company. Further assignments are made at that time. All soldiers are assigned to single soldier housing (non-command sponsored area). There are no, repeat NO government family quarters available in this area.

There are a few command sponsored positions within this command. There are no family quarters available and those personnel that are authorized to bring family members usually are authorized quarters at Yongsan or, in some cases Rent Plus. Civilians that are command sponsored or state-side hires are authorized Living Quarters Allowance (LQA).

* AREA I HISTORY

The Area I Support Activity (Provisional) was formed to assume the Base Operations Support (BASOPS) and quality of life missions from the 501st Corps Support Group. Area I enhances the capabilities of war fighters by allowing them to remain mission focused and continually improves the quality of life of all soldiers, civilians, and family members throughout the command.

Area I West was activated on 12 June 1995. On that day, Colonel Shawn F. Graves, then commander of the United States Army Garrison (USAG) at Camp Casey, assumed command of the organization. By 1 October 1995, Area I West had completely assumed the BASOPS mission for the 41 separate installations distributed throughout Area I West's two subordinate commands, United States Army Garrison at Camp Casey and Camp Red Cloud. The Headquarters Company for Area I West was established on November 1, 1995. With the addition of Camp Page on 13 June 1996, the command was redesignated as Area I Support Activity.

Today, Area I continues to provide BASOPS and quality of life support to more than 20,000 soldiers and nearly 6,000 civilians stationed at 42 camps North of Seoul and stands ready to conduct Noncombatant Evacuation Operations during transition to hostilities or natural disasters.

* 2D INFANTRY DIVISION HISTORY

Camp Casey was named and officially dedicated in 1952 in memory of Maj. Hugh B. Casey, who died in a plane crash here in December 1951.

Casey arrived in Korea in 1951, a Second Lieutenant, and served as a company commander in the 2nd Battalion, 7th Infantry Regiment, 3rd Infantry Division. He received the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest award for valor, for heroism at the Hungnam beachhead.

According to Lt. Col. Roy E. Lewis, then executive officer of the 7th Infantry Division Support Command, Casey was ordered to have his company in a blocking position west of Hungnam by sunrise the next morning. He had to cross a mountain pass with two to three feet of snow in it. Forcemarching his men, he had them only halfway to the objective by sunrise. He pressed forward, refusing to give up despite the fatigue and hopelessness of the mission. He didn't stop marching until ordered to.

To Lewis, this was what made Casey an extraordinary soldier. "He gave little thought to himself," Lewis said.

Later, while he was serving as senior aide to Maj. Gen. Williston B. Palmer, then Commanding General of the 3rd Inf. Div., Casey's light observation plane was hit by ground fire. The plane crashed just west of the present 2nd Infantry Division headquarters. A white wooden cross was erected to mark the spot; it was replaced in 1960 by a white concrete cross. "Lest we forget," the cross and camp now mark the memory of a brave man.

Soldiers coming to the 2nd Infantry Division can look forward to serving in the most combat ready, most forward deployed division in America's Army, one that works closely with its Korean allies to keep the peace on freedom's frontier.

The Warrior Division faces a real threat. One of the largest armies in the world sits just across the Demilitarized Zone(DMZ). The fighting stopped in 1953, but the Korean War never officially ended. North Korea's leaders remain committed to uniting the peninsula under their regime, and will take advantage of any erosion of the division's readiness.

Being combat ready means many things: excellent training, leadership, equipment and professional support. Warrior division leaders bring all these things together in a training program that is well-planned, tough, and realistic.

Tough training keeps warriors busy during their stay, but there is more to a tour in the 2nd Inf. Div. than the mission. Quality of life has been, and will remain, a priority in the Warrior Division. Many new barracks facilities have been constructed over the past few years, and construction continues. New clubs have been built, and many existing facilities completely renovated. The Army and Air Force Exchange System and commercial fast food restaurants have opened the door to more dining choices. The information superhighway is also coming to freedom's frontier: cable Television installation is in the final installation process, and there are plans to bring Internet access to soldiers with the equipment to take advantage of it. Soldiers can also continue their education, often using the creative and flexible programs designed to work around a Warrior's schedule.

There is much to learn outside the classroom--and the gate. During a one-year tour in Korea, soldiers get an opportunity to enjoy a country with a rich and diverse culture and a unique geography. Ancient traditions continue to flourish in a nation that has rapidly become a modern industrial and economic power. Soldiers can take advantage of regularly scheduled tours to local attractions, such as the Folk Village in Suwon, Mount Sorak, the DMZ, Buddhist temples, and many famous shopping areas. Those who take an interest in their surroundings find their tours much more satisfying.

Despite the fact virtually all the division's 13,000 soldiers serve one-year, unaccompanied tours, families are also part of the 2nd Inf. Div. About 3,000 family members choose to live in Korea while their warriors serve here. The division does not directly sponsor these families, but does care very much about and has programs to help them adjust to life in Korea. The "Pear Blossom Cottages," located throughout the division, are an extension of the Army Community Service relocation, outreach and family advocacy programs. The cottages imitate "American-style" houses and offer American spouses a bit of home in a foreign land, while at the same time exposing Korean-born and other Third Country Spouses to American culture.

This information has just scratched the surface of what it means to serve with the most combat ready, most forward deployed division in America's Army. Soldiers who come here ready to fight and serve will find an assignment to the 2nd Inf. Div. can be the most rewarding of a soldier's career, truly SECOND TO NONE!

MISSION: The Second Infantry Division's mission is to deter war. Should deterrence fail, the soldiers of the Warrior Division stand shoulder-to-shoulder with their Korean allies, ready to defend "freedom's frontier."

CAPABILITIES: Unique force structure and fighting capability not found anywhere else in the US Army or on the Korean peninsula. The Warrior Division possesses more combat power than any other division within the coalition forces.

The 2nd Inf. Div. is the most forward deployed, lethal and combat ready division in the US Army.

The 2nd Inf. Div. is a robust, combined arms team that contains armor, mechanized infantry, air assault infantry and combat aviation units.

The 1st and 2nd Brigades are the maneuver brigades, and have a total of two M1A1 Abrams tank battalions, two Mechanized Infantry battalions (Bradley) and two air assault infantry battalions.

Other major commands are the Aviation Brigade, the Division Artillery, the Engineer Brigade, and the Division Support Command.

The Division Artillery (DIVARTY) is the largest in the Army and contains more Multiple-Launched Rocket Systems (MLRS) than any other DIVARTY.

The Division boasts top quality soldiers and leaders--both American and Korean--who are equipped with the best equipment in the world to include the M1A1 Abrams tank, the M2/3 Bradley Infantry Fighting Vehicle, the AH66 Apache helicopter and the MLRS.

TRAINING: From rifle marksmanship, to tank gunnery, to delivering the devastating fire of the divisional MLRS, the combat readiness of the Warrior Division's soldiers and equipment is its number one priority.

Computer simulation plays a large role in leader and battle staff training. The division periodically conducts a five-day Warfighter exercise at Camp Casey and Camp Hovey.

Contributing to the division's combat readiness and its ability to team with its Korean allies are the division's Korean Augmentation to the United States Army, or KATUSA soldiers. More than 2,000 KATUSA soldiers are fully integrated into the division's force structure. They serve as tank crew members, artillerymen, administrative specialists and cooks. They are fellow warriors.

FACILITIES AND MANPOWER: The 15,000 Warriors of the 2nd Inf. Div. are spread across 17 different installations throughout the northwestern quadrant of South Korea. The headquarters is located at Camp Red Cloud in the city of Uijongbu. The bulk of the troops are stationed at Camps Casey and Hovey near Tongduchun. The remaining 14 camps have smaller concentrations of combat and support units.

"In front of them all" stands the 1st Battalion, 506th Inf. Regiment, located north of Freedom Bridge and the Imjin River, a scant two kilometers from the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

The division is in the midst of a major construction and renovation campaign designed to improve the quality of life of our soldiers. By the end of Fiscal Year 1999, more than 30 new barracks construction projects are to be completed. In the last year, new recreational and dining facilities, such as the Borderline Cafe and brigade "Super Dayrooms" have been built to provide soldiers a better living environment.

A newly built air assault training facility, located between Camps Casey and Hovey, just recently trained and graduated more than 80 new air assault qualified Warriors. The school is the first of its kind built and run overseas.

 CAMP PAGE HISTORY

Camp Page is named in honor of Lieutenant Colonel John U.D. Page, United States Army, who was posthumously awarded the congressional medal of honor and the Navy Cross for Gallantry while serving with Marine units during the breakout from bloody Chosen reservoir in 1950.

Realizing the extreme danger to the stationary convoy while under relentless fire of the enemy forces commanding high ground on both sides of the road, Lieutenant Colonel Page bravely fought his way to the head of the column accompanied by a marine private. Undaunted by point-blank machine-gun fire, he continued directly into the hostiles strong point, taking 30 of the enemy completely by surprise and inflicting severe casualties among them. With the marine private wounded by a hand grenade, Lieutenant Colonel Page ordered him to withdraw and provided him with covering fire, fiercely continuing to engage the enemy single-handedly and killing 12 of them before he was mortally wounded. By his valiant and aggressive fighting spirit in the face of overwhelming odds during this self-impose mission, he was directly responsible for disrupting the hostile attack, thereby making it possible for the members of his convoy to regroup, redeploy and fight off succeeding attacks. His outstanding courage, self-sacrificing efforts and unwavering devotion to duty reflect the highest credit upon Lieutenant Colonel Page and the United States Armed Forces. He gallantly gave his life for his country.

On 30 January 1958 the last units of the 100th Field Artillery Rocket Battalion arrived from Japan taking up headquarters at what is now known as Camp Page. Subsequently the battalion was joined by Infantry, Engineer, Signal and supply units and was redesignated the 4th Missile Command, a major subordinate command of the Eighth United States Army. The "Last of a Breed," the 4th Missile Command celebrated its 20th and final anniversary on 27 April 1978 and was totally inactivated in June 1978. Only the Weapons Support Detachment-Korea was retained to carry on the rites of ST. Barber, and it was inactivated in September of 1990.

Must Know Items

Area I and the 2ID are located in a non-command sponsored area. Soldiers are discouraged from bringing their family members to this area. The 2ID is a wartime mission oriented division and soldiers spend the majority of their tour in the field. Those soldiers that bring their family members to this area must live within earshot of the alert siren. This alone limits the areas and the type of quarters that are available. While there are now some very nice apartment complexes in Area I, they are usually located some distance from the installations and the rent is extremely expensive. The soldiers that bring their families normally reside in local houses that have been converted into small (extremely small) rooms and what might be termed efficiency apartments. It is not uncommon to find that toilet, water, and other utilities are shared.

DO NOT bring cellular telephones (cell phones) to South Korea. The frequencies are different and the cell phones will not work. The local phone company will convert it, but keep in mind it is expensive and you will still have to pay for the set up charges and monthly usage fees. Upon departure from South Korea, you will have to pay again to have the cell phone reconverted for stateside use.

The Status of Forces Agreement (SOFA) determines your legal status as a member of the U.S. armed forces in Korea. It is a binding agreement formally negotiated between the governments of the United States and the Republic of Korea. You should be very familiar with the provisions of SOFA. You must carry with you at all times the "SOFA Card" you receive during your in-processing. It contains emergency telephone numbers in case you become involved in an incident. Here are a few things you should remember.

 EVEN THOUGH YOU WILL NOT BE AUTHORIZED A POV IN THIS AREA, YOU MAY BE REQUIRED TO DRIVE A MILITARY VEHICLE. Be advised that driving in Korea is not at all the same as in the states. Most Koreans have been driving a very short time (the normal Korean populace began to drive after the 1988 Olympic games) and the road infrastructure is just now beginning to expand enough to handle the huge influx of vehicles. Under Korean law, the driver is responsible for the safety of pedestrians and others. If you have an accident, it will almost always be considered your "fault" even if you did nothing wrong. The Korean government will usually not press charges against military personnel unless alcohol, fleeing the scene, gross negligence or another major traffic offense is involved.

Korean law concerning driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs are much stricter than U.S. law. Driving with a blood/alcohol level of .05 is a violation of Korean law.

Under Korean law and U.S. military regulations, blackmarketing is not limited to the selling of duty free goods. Even giving a pack of PX cigarettes to a Korean is illegal and may be treated seriously. You may be approached by Koreans who will ask you to buy things for them, and who claim to have friends who will destroy the sales records so that you will not be caught. Don't believe it! When records are processed and you get in trouble, they will be telling the same story to other soldiers. You may sell or give duty free goods in compliance with USFK 643-1 and 643-2.

If you are apprehended by Korean police, do NOT resist. You must identify yourself to them, but you do not have to answer questions about any alleged offense. Show the policeman your SOFA card, and request that he call the military police.

The Korean Peninsula is one of the most heavily propagandized pieces of geography in the world. In the absence of armed hostilities, north Korea has developed a very sophisticated and responsive propaganda machine that seldom overlooks an opportunity to denounce both the U.S. and ROK governments and their representatives. Every day the centrally-controlled north Korean propagandists will not hesitate to twist, distort, or magnify out of all proportion even the most trivial incidents involving U.S. military personnel. Because the U.S. military presence in Korea is so highly visible, it is a frequent object of attack. For example, a U.S. soldier who gets in minor difficulty with the ROK legal system might be accused by the north of having committed the most heinous crimes against the whole Korean people.

Remember, you are truly a representative of your country. Make everything you say and do contribute to that proud image. Don't let your actions or those of your unit become the north's propaganda.

For the past 30 years there have been restrictions placed on the amount and types of items purchased by U.S. Forces serving in Korea. The restrictions are implemented by the ration control system. Its primary purpose is to regulate shelf stocks in commissaries and exchanges so that all customers have a chance to buy popular items. It's also the way U.S. Forces Korea honors its commitment, under the Status of Forces Agreement, to limit duty-free goods imported into Korea via military channels. Personnel must show their ID card and Ration Control card when entering the AAFES, Shopette, Class VI, and Commissary.

Liquor, 20 percent or more by volume, is rationed in alcohol units. One bottle (fifth, quart, or liter) is counted as one liquor unit. Alcohol units for individual is three (3).

All commissary purchases will be recorded based on family size on a monthly basis. The dollar limit for individual is $350.00 per month.

KOREA A DIFFERENT WORLD

* Remember, Koreans are not wrong they are just different!

* You are about to enter a very different world. As every overseas assignment you have is unique it is also an opportunity to learn and can be a very exciting experience. Like any experience it will take a little knowledge, willingness to learn and a sense of humor.

* Korea is a dynamic, fast paced country that is constantly changing. These tips are just that, few survival tips to help you during your tour in Korea - to help you have a good time.

* It is important to remember that you are a guest in Korea and regardless of what you think or feel, now or later, you are an ambassador of the US, your country and your unit. The impression you create will stay with everyone you meet and everyone who sees you for a very long time. By being friendly, courteous and respectful you will overcome many obstacles and create a good impression of America.

IMPORTANT SURVIVAL TIPS

- * Never gesture to others using one finger or palm up, that is for animals. Always motion to others with your hand palm down like waving good bye.

- * Never publicly embarrass a Korean. "Saving face" and never backing down is more important than anything.

- * Speak slowly, clearly and avoid slang. Louder won't help. Slang such as shortened forms of Korean words like "he" for Ajoshi, is very insulting.

- * The Korea seen close to any post or base is no different than areas around military posts in the states, it doesn't represent the country or area.

- * Often Korean people will stare, it is curiosity and not insulting. Grimacing or gesturing toward them will only produce conflict. A friendly smile, returned or not and moving along is always best.

- * Don't be surprised if you see two Korean women or men walking arm and arm. They are just good friends and there is nothing sexual implied.

- * Always address Korean people by their family name. First names are very personal. Koreans generally use their family name rather than their first name. It is always safe to use the terms Miss, Mrs., or Mr. with the last name. Women do not change their name when they get married.

- * Always respect and defer to those older than you. Respect for elders is highly valued in Korea, for example, at meals older people always start first and are served first.

- * Expect your space to be invaded. Korean people have a different sense of space. They push slightly and jostle each other to get about.

- * Never write names of living people in red ink; the names of the dead are written in red ink.

- * Remove your shoes when visiting a home, temple or some restaurants. Always wear clean socks without holes.

- * Generally when two Koreans are having a conversation in a passageway they will move backward for you to walk between them. It is considered impolite to make someone walk behind them.

- * When shaking hands, giving or receiving something always use two hands, place one hand under your right hand or forearm.

- * Normally Koreans keep to the left when walking on the street or up stairs.

- * In restaurants, the menu is often displayed on the wall and not handed out individually. Meals most often come with everything at the same time, this includes western meals.

- * When having dinner with someone, one person often pays for everything with each person demanding to pay for the meal. Sharing the cost is not considered polite.

- * When you see what appears to be a swastika in Korea, don't be alarmed, it has nothing to do with Nazi or other hate groups. It is a Buddhist symbol far older than its misuse in the west.

- * Never blow your nose in public, especially a restaurant. It is considered very rude and low class. When wiping your nose the tissues are always discarded, never placed in a pocket.

- * Never leave your chop sticks or spoon standing up in your rice bowl, this is a funeral custom.

- * Do not compare things Korean with Japanese. Never be complementary of things Japanese in comparison with anything Korean.

- * Korean society is changing rapidly but generally men have priority over women. For example, in a speech we would say "ladies and gentlemen". Koreans would say "gentlemen and ladies". Sons are preferred over daughters, since sons carry on the family name and are responsible for taking care of their parents in old age.

- * When going out for a meal, snacks or beverage, the person making the invitation or suggestion pays the bill. Some Koreans have become accustomed to "Dutch treat" or sharing the tab. But this varies a great deal.

- * When passing things use two hands.

* Eye to eye contact is considered aggressive, offensive and rude.

* Men should never be in public without a shirt.

* Do not touch Koreans unless they are very close friends.

* Most roads are very narrow and there are few sidewalks. If you are walking or driving, be aware of trucks, cars, motorcycles, bicycles and pedestrians. Drivers are unpredictable. Often Americans think/assume that there are no rules and that they should drive as aggressively as possible. This is incorrect and often leads to problems. Don't be a statistic. Koreans have many spoken and unspoken subtle rules for driving. It is always better to be flexible and yielding instead of ending up in an accident, even a minor one. They generally drive under these principles:

- If I do not see you, you aren't there.

- The biggest vehicle takes the right of way.

* There are open markets as well as a multitude of indoor shops. Sometimes the market smells are a bit overwhelming, especially in the summer.

* Be prepared to politely bargain prices with shopkeepers in open markets and small shops. Do not be rude. If the shopkeeper doesn't come down to your price, compromise. Bargaining generally isn't appropriate in large stores or if items are price marked.

* Sometimes people are frightened that dog meat may be substituted for another kind of meat. This fear is unfounded as it is a delicacy, expensive and Koreans understand the Westerner's (as well as most younger Korean) feelings about eating dog meat.

* If you order something from a shopkeeper, and it's not ready on time it is most likely due to his trying to please you, not dishonesty. All groups have different senses of time e.g., Japanese are always on time to the second, in our own country we have differences as well. Generally Koreans are not on time and this influences business as well as social meetings. Do not be late. Many Koreans understand that Americans, especially the military, show up on time.

* If you experience problems with a shopkeeper, do not argue. Do not become loud.

* It is a good policy to pay as little down as possible on any item as this generally will keep it more on time and will avoid a large loss if you are displeased. If there is ever a problem contact your ACS Consumer Affairs as they have the means for resolving shopping problems on and off of the installation.

* If you have blond hair or dark skin someone may touch you or your children out of curiosity. This occurs mostly in the country where people have little or no contact with foreigners.

* Toilet paper is sometimes not provided in public toilets. Bring tissue and discard it in the trash can next to the toilet, often the septic tanks in these areas can't take waste paper. Toilets are often coed, as in Europe, with men using urinals while women walk in behind using the stalls. If you need to use a stall knock first and pause. Toilets are often not western type and may take some getting use to.

* Children often play in the streets as there is no where else. It is Korean law that when a child raises his/her arm traffic stops. Keep your eyes open for children and elderly at all times.

* Public display of affection, loud laughter, loud music (boom boxes) are considered very rude and low class. They have on occasion led to incidents, be respectful at all times.

* Dress is a reflection of status. If you are visiting with a Korean dress nicely. Very young dress "grunge" but it is frowned upon. Dress neat clean and conservatively.

VISITING A HOME

* Bring a gift of fruit, flowers or cakes for the host. An English dictionary is an excellent gift for families with school age children.

* If it is a special occasion, such as a birthday, also bring a present for the honored guest.

* If you are attending a wedding, a 60th birthday party or a funeral, money in a white envelope with your name written on the front is appropriate.

* Do not be surprised if your host doesn't open a gift while you are present. It is considered impolite to open gifts in front of the gift-giver.

* Honored guests are often asked to sing - be ready.

* When food and drink are offered, don't refuse. This would hurt the hosts feelings. If you have difficulty with spicy food explain this to your host far enough before you are to arrive that they can make accommodation. If you do not drink alcoholic beverages explain to your host that it is for medical reasons or due to your religious beliefs.

* Do not begin to eat until the oldest person has. Some Koreans believe throwing rice away is wasteful. Follow your hosts example in leaving a little or eating it all.

* Often Koreans ask personal questions to get to know you and establish your position. You will often be asked your age. Don't feel offended.

* Allow someone to pour for you and always attempt to pour for another. Koreans generally serve each other using two hands to serve and receive.

* Koreans cover their mouth when they use a tooth pick.

* If you invite a Korean to your home at meal time, serve a meal. If other than meal time offer snacks and beverage.

* Since Korean food contains much that is spicy as well as a great deal of garlic the odor may be strange and a little offensive. DO NOT make public comments or make a face. Please do not refer to Korean things using slang like Kimchi taxi, or Kimchi squat, this is very insulting.

GENERALLY

* Korea has been influenced by many religions including Buddhism, Shamanism, Confucianism and recently Christianity. Much of societal order is derived from these religious teachings. With such structure you may think it strange to hear about student demonstrations and riots. Historically it has been an intellectuals duty to tell the government what it is doing wrong. The number of demonstrations against the U.S. are relatively small despite what you see on TV or newspapers. The demonstrators are a relatively small portion of people and most are contained in small areas near universities. Demonstrations are usually known in advance and AFKN radio and TV will broadcast areas to be avoided. Avoid the area at all costs. Accidents and incidents can occur and you don't want to be a part of it.

* Korea is a proud country with an ancient heritage, far older than our own. Much of Korea's history has received little notice in the west due to the long period of colonization by the Japanese. Koreans often feel misunderstood and are rather sensitive about their history. Korea was printing books long before the west, had iron clad ships before America was a country, and the famous Japanese cherry trees of Washington DC were taken to the US when Korea was occupied by Japan. Korea has been a country that has always avoided conflict and prided itself on learning. Unfortunately Korea is the natural route into China and out of China and has been the victim of numerous wars and occupations.

Regulations

* TRAFFIC DRIVING CONDITIONS IN KOREA are different (more hazardous) than other places you may have been assigned. It may appear as though there are no traffic laws, but that is not the case. There are laws and they must be followed. However, you will notice that many Koreans, particularly cab & bus drivers, don't always obey the laws. Bus drivers suddenly pull out into traffic and force other vehicles to stop. No turn signal is used or the signal may be turned on after the turn has begun. Cab drivers always rush and stop at any location to discharge/pick-up passengers. Korean drivers blow horns frequently to try to push slow vehicles. Motorcycles, motorbikes and bicycles usually do not abide by the same rules as other vehicles. They travel without regard to lane, weave through traffic, drive down the wrong side of the road, travel extremely close to other vehicles and change direction unpredictably. Pedestrians are expected to cross at any location and children play in the streets. These traffic environments make you upset while on the road. But we want you to be patient and drive carefully.

 Maximum speed limits for Army Military Vehicles(AMVs) and Privately Owned Vehicles(POVs) in Korea are:

AMV: City & Built-up - 35 MPH (56 KPH).
Outside built-up - 40 MPH (64 KPH). Expressway & Toll road (Sedan Type) - 62 MPH (100 KPH).
Tactical vehicles (excluding M1000 series) - 40 MPH. All other vehicles - 50 MPH (80 KPH).

POV: Speed limits are the same as posted speed limit signs.

* RESTRICTED AREAS:

All civilian pharmacies and drug stores. (This para is applicable only to active duty personnel.)

All acupuncture clinics, civilian medical and dental clinics, and civilian hospitals, except for medical emergency treatments, visits to patients, or when referred by U.S. medical treatment facilities. (This para is applicable only to active duty personnel.)

Tattoo Parlors.

All off-post barber and beauty shops.

Soju/Mokkaoli houses, tents, and push carts that are unlicensed, serving food, or liquor.

Beaches, pools, streams, lakes, reservoirs, or other natural bodies of water for activities such as wading, swimming, bathing, diving, skin/scuba diving, frolicking, ice skating, or boating, unless the location is specifically approved for use by the area or installation commander. Hotel swimming pools, ice skating rinks, and other commercial recreational facilities that have safety personnel on duty and areas visited on US Army sponsored tours are not included within this prohibition, unless so declared by the installation commander. Personnel may enter such areas in the performance of official duties or to protect life or property. Status of Forces Agreement personnel utilizing any off-post natural bathing area do so at their own risk.

ROK public streets, roads, and highways during the hours of curfew established by the ROK Government. Travel during curfew hours is permitted, however, in emergencies or when performing official duties.

All areas affected by ROK Government curfew (consult area law enforcement authorities for specific areas). However, travel is permitted in these areas in emergencies or when performing official duties.

* STATUS OF FORCES AGREEMENT (SOFA):

The legal status of U.S. forces personnel in Korea is determined by an international agreement between the United States and the Republic of Korea called the U.S./ROK Status of Forces Agreement.

Your assignment in Korea not only helps the ROK, it helps the U.S. accomplish important foreign policy objectives. This doesn't entitle you to any special privileges, except for those provided in the SOFA.

The ROK is very willing for you to live and work in as familiar an environment as possible and to have for your personal use the same type services and facilities that you enjoy back home. In return for having these things, which are generally not as readily available to its own citizens, the ROK makes two requests:

- That you respect ROK laws.
- That you do not allow the privileges granted U.S. forces to harm the nation's economy or that of its citizens.

The SOFA gives you benefits and protection. It enables you to enjoy the benefits of post and base exchanges, commissaries, military clubs, banks, credit unions and postal services. It protects your legal and civil rights in case you're involved in an accident or suspected of a violation of ROK laws.

The SOFA also provides that the ROK government will take jurisdiction over USFK personnel only for those offenses which violate ROK laws, such as causing the death of another person, robbery, rape or attempts to commit such offenses. Offenders remain in U.S. custody until all judicial proceedings are completed.

Black-Marketing and drug abuse are two particularly serious offenses in Korea. Selling or transferring items brought into the country duty free to someone who's not authorized the same privilege is black-marketing, unless it's done according to U.S./ROK mutually agreed upon procedures. This covers everything from cigarettes to TV sets.

The SOFA applies to all U.S. Armed Forces personnel in Korea. Persons entitled to protection under SOFA are required to carry a SOFA card AT ALL TIMES. If you have family in Korea they are also required to have a SOFA verification stamp in their passport.

THIS HAPPENS ONCE THEY ARRIVE IN KOREA

* The following personnel are authorized to have a POV license in Korea:

- Personnel in a command sponsored status regardless of grade.

- Personnel in a joint domicile status authorized a POV on their orders.

- Members of the US Armed Forces in the grade of staff sergeant or above.

- DOD Civilians in the grade of GS-5 or above and USFK Tech Rep.

- Invited contractors who have SOFA privileges.

- Personnel who have a letter of approval by the Commanding General for exception to policy.

* To register a vehicle you ship, you will need a USFK driver's license, proof of insurance, inspection papers and a customs document.

* To register a vehicle you purchase from a Korean National, you will need a USFK DRIVER'S LICENSE, PROOF OF INSURANCE, INSPECTION PAPERS, A KOREAN BILL OF SALE (from the seller), A CERTIFICATE OF CANCELLATION (from the seller) and A SELLER'S CERTIFICATION STAMP.

 Invited contractors, their employees (Including Korean Nationals), and dependents who operate a POV in the ROK must first obtain a valid ROK Driver's License. THESE PERSONNEL MUST OBTAIN A VALID USFK FORM 134 EK (POV LICENSE) TO OPERATE THEIR POV ON A US MILITARY INSTALLATION AND IN KOREA.

 BICYCLE REGISTRATION: To register a bicycle on post, you will need the serial #, a helmet, reflective vest, locking device, front and rear reflectors and a headlight (If you'll be riding at night).

 All private weapons MUST be registered. Under USFK Regulation 1908, you are required to secure your weapon in your unit arms room. A USFK Form 112 must be filled out which will include the type, make and serial number of the weapon.

Local Community

Local Community Overview

Traditionally, cities in Asia have been laid out according to a well defined city plan. The cities were oriented to the cardinal directions and had gates at the North, South, East and West points. Often smaller gates were included as additions to the plan. The south gate of these cities was invariably the most important and usually had a two story pavilion atop the gate itself. The pattern of walls, gates and streets has left an imprint on all modern cities which in the past possessed walls around their circumference. The old city has left a very clear impression on the present city. Cities in Korea are divided into sectors called ku, each ku in turn being divided into neighborhoods called tong.

TONGDUCHON, located on the most northern part of Korea, is at the edge of Soyo Mountain, also known as Kyonggi's "Little Kumkang Mountain." It is one of the most important cities in terms of military security and is the first gateway to the northern countries. It is also developing into the most important city in northern Kyonggi. The Dongduchun city Population status is over 70,000 citizens.

Climate

Korea has four seasons. Spring is from March to May with the average daily high in the 50's to the low 70's. A rainy season (Known as Monsoon), about three to five weeks long begins in June or early July. The average daily temperatures are in the middle to upper 80's in the Summer, with a high humidity.

Mid-September to Mid-November is the Fall season with a gradual transition from Summer to Winter. September and October experience a marked drop in rainfall, and the weather is mild and pleasant. Snow falls usually from late November to early February. Normally snowfall is extremely small and only remains for two to three days at a time.

KOREAN HOLIDAYS EVENTS

* NEW YEAR HOLIDAY: JAN 1-2. The first two days of the New Year are recognized and celebrated. Members of the family get up early, put on their best clothes, and everyone bows to their elders as a reaffirmation of family ties.

* LUNAR NEW YEAR HOLIDAY (SOL-LAL): 1-3 DAYS OF LUNAR CALENDAR. Lunar New Year's day (sol) is one of the most important traditional events of the year. It is still much more significant than January 1st. Most businesses are closed and people take several days off to visit their hometowns to be with family. Feasts are held with specially prepared food such as ttokguk and mandukkuk. Men play yut or fly kites, boys spin tops, and women jump on the Korean seesaw.

* INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT DAY (SAMIL-JOL): MAR 1 This day commemorates the Declaration of Independence proclaimed on 1 March 1919 while under Japanese colonization. A reading of the declaration takes place in a special ceremony in T'apkol Park in Seoul, where the document was first read to the public.

* HAN SIK: 105th day after central winter day, sometime during the first part of April.

* ARBOR DAY: APR 5. Trees are planted across the country as part of the nation's vast reforestation program. In addition, the first week in November has been set aside as a treeplanting week.

* BUDDHA'S BIRTHDAY: Lunar 8th day of the 4th month, often in middle May, Buddha's Birthday is also called the "Feast of Lanterns" day. Elaborate and solemn rituals are held at many Buddhist temples across the country and lanterns are displayed in the temple courtyards. In the evening these lanterns are carried in parades. It is celebrated on the 8th day of the 4th lunar month.

* CHILDREN'S DAY: MAY 5. Parents dress up the little ones and take them to children's parks, amusement parks, zoos, or to the cinema for a full day of fun and games to challenge them to grow healthy and prosperously.

* MEMORIAL DAY: JUN 6. Memorial day is set aside to honor the soldiers and civilians who have given their lives for the country. The largest ceremony is held at the National Cemetery in Seoul.

* CONSTITUTION DAY: JUL 17. This holiday commemorates the proclamation of the Constitution of the Republic of Korea on July 17, 1948.

* LIBERATION DAY: AUG 15. This day commemorates the Japanese acceptance of the Allied terms of surrender and the resulting liberation of Korea in 1945.

* CHUSOK: LUNAR 15TH DAY OF 8TH MONTH. Ch'usok is the year's most important traditional holiday. It's celebrated on the 15th day of the eighth lunar month. Also called Hangawi ("Harvest Moon Festival") and Chungch'u-jol ("Mid-Autumn Festival"), Ch'usok is often referred to as Korean Thanksgiving Day. It's a celebration of the harvest and a thanks for the bounty of the earth. Family members come from all parts of the country to visit their ancestral homes.

* NATIONAL FOUNDATION DAY: OCT 3. This day, also called Tan-gun Day, commemorates the mythical founding of the Korean nation in 2333 B.C. by the legendary god-king Tan-gun. A simple ceremony is held at an altar on top of Mt. Maisan, Kanghwa-do Island. The altar is said to have been erected by Tan-gun to offer thanks to his father and grandfather, gods of heaven.

* CHRISTMAS DAY: DEC 25. Christmas is observed as a national holiday in Korea, as in many other countries.

OTHER SPECIAL DAYS

* LABOR DAY: MAY 1. Although Labor Day is not a government holiday, banks and business establishments are closed, and many people enjoy a day off.

* PARENT'S DAY: MAY 8. Sons and daughters show their love and respect for both their parents.

* TANO DAY: MAY-JUNE. Tano is one of the three great celebration days of the lunar calendar (the 5th day of the 5th lunar month), together with sollal and ch'usok. It is also known as "swing day" since girls dressed in their prettiest clothes often enter swinging competition.

* ARMED FORCES DAY: OCT 1. Colorful Military parades and aerial acrobatic shows mark this commemorative day. Honor guard ceremonies are held around the reviewing plaza on Youido Island in Seoul.

* HAN-GUL DAY: OCT 9. This day celebrates the anniversary of the introduction of han-gul, the written language of Korea. Han-gul was invented by the decree of King Sejong in the mid-15th century.

* UNITED NATION'S DAY: OCT 24. United Nation's Day honors the U.N. Soldiers who died during the Korean War. A Ceremony is held at the U.N. Cemetery in Pusan.

Cultural Attractions

There are many Korean events held throughout the year. Some events are local community events while others are nationwide. The local USO Tour and Travel office books tours and schedules soldier participation. Contact your local ACS in Korea for more information.

* KYONG-JU (SHILLA DYNASTY): Kyong-ju was the capital of the shilla Dynasty for a thousand years, and the valley in which it is situated has a great concentration of historic buildings, temples, and artifacts. After Shilla unified the peninsula in 676 A.D, the city developed into one of the world's major cultural center. The area is called a "Museum Without Walls" because of the wealth of historical buildings and treasures to be found there.

* KOREAN FOLK VILLAGE: This is one of the most popular spots with Korean and international tourists alike. It is a theme park just east of Su-won that recreates life during the Cho-Son dynasty (1392-1910), similar in many respects to the way in which Williamsburg recreates the American Colonial area. It not only provides an educational and entertaining insight into Korea's last dynasty, it also introduces tourists to sights, customs and crafts from throughout the peninsula.

* INDEPENDENCE HALL: Built solely by donations from the public, Independence Hall consists of seven separate memorial halls, displaying over 43,000 items that relate to Korea's long struggle to remain free from foreign oppression. Independence Hall is an architectural masterpiece with landscaped grounds of equal beauty. Many older people come here for a pilgrimage-like retreat into their past. They arrive by the busloads, often wearing their "hanboks", the Korean national costume. As they move from exhibit to exhibit, the emotion shows on their faces and in their voices. Seldom does a tourist attraction afford visitors the opportunity to observe such a dramatic personal matter.

Shopping

American style shopping centers/malls are not common to Korea. Most Area I/2ID installations/compounds are within easy commuting distance of local villages/cities. Although those local communities are small, most have a market area and a variety of local products that are of good quality and reasonable price. Seoul, the capital of Korea with a population of approximately 10 million, is within one to three hours commute of all installations/compounds in the Area I/2ID area. As with any large metropolis, Seoul has modern western style shopping centers as well as the Korean style (a blend of the old and the new). There is a significant increase in the quantity of items available in Seoul. As anywhere in the world, "buyer beware". Shopping in Korea can be fun and inexpensive. Check with your local ACS in Korea for more information.

* Second Market

Second Market is a traditional Korean style market located in downtown Tongdunchun. It is an open air market featuring clothes, shoes, accessories, linens, dishes, vegetables and seafood. It is suggested that you bring won instead of dollars to do your shopping in Second Market.

Directions: Cross the street and turn left outside Camp Casey, Gate #1. Continue down MSR 1 and turn right at the second set of stop lights. This street will cross the railroad tracks and veer to the left. Continue down this street and take a right at the next large intersection. Cross the street and the entrance to Second Market is half a block down and marked with an orange plastic awning over the alley way entrance.

* Itaewon

The shopping district just outside Yongsan Garrison in Seoul, is geared specifically for the foreign shopper. Itaewon is the world-renowned shopping center, offering the widest range of bargains. Consisting of one long street and many little alleys and basement shops, Itaewon was originally planned and designed exclusively for foreign clientele. The Itaewon merchants can please even the most discriminating shopper regardless of taste. They offer items such as sportswear, jogging shoes, leather-gel products, suit cases, hand bags, brassware, jewelry, and many goods are export quality and bargains can be found. American dollars are acceptable here.

 Yongsan Electronics Market

A mammoth electronics market has recently been set up at Yongsan, site of a former wholesale vegetable and fruit market. Newly-constructed buildings line the street of the market. All name brand electronics items are available at the lowest retail prices in Korea. Electronic home appliances, lighting equipment, computers and other OA equipment are here. If it isn't here, then it probably doesn't exist in Korea.

 Tongdaemun (East Gate Market) & Namdaemun (South Gate Market)

These markets are two of the oldest marketplaces around. Both areas are in Seoul and are accessible via the subway system. These are Korea's retail outlets and bargains abound. The markets are block after block of goodies, so plan on staying awhile! A note of caution - check all items very closely as the sale of seconds is the norm. Also, Korean sizes run much smaller than American sizes. A large isn't necessarily so, and most places do not have fitting rooms! Korean won is used almost exclusively here. (Closed Sundays).

 Chosun Gift Shop

One of the most noted shopping locations in Korea is not Korean! It is the Chosun Gift Shop located on Yongsan Garrison South Post. Open Wed & Sat 1000-1500 for ID Card and Ration Control Plate holders only. The Chosun Gift Shop is operated by the Officers Wives Club on Yongsan and the proceeds go to worthy causes. Items are imported from several Pacific area countries at a tremendous savings.

State and Community Social Service Agencies

There are no approved social services provided in the civilian community.

Non-Profit Social Service Agencies

There are several campaigns conducted throughout the year to help local agencies, such as the Korean Red Cross. Contact your local ACS in Korea for more information.

Religious Activities

The religious programs are tailored to meet the unique needs of military, DoD civilian personnel, and their families. Most chapels offer a variety of activities for all age groups. These include religious education programs, choirs, bible study groups, and various chapel-sponsored organization.

The Eighth Army Religious Retreat Center is a one-of-kind facility operated by the chaplains of Korea. Located on a 5-acre site in the heart of Seoul, it provides lodging, recreational activities, a chapel, meeting rooms, and an excellent dining hall. Religious retreats are regularly offered at minimal cost by unit chaplains and denominational groups.

Most denominational services are provided throughout the Area I/2ID, but at different chapels at different installations/compounds within the Area I/2ID.

Community Transportation

The Area I/2ID is a non-command sponsored area located in the North-western section of the Republic of Korea. Located within this approximately 700 square mile area are 42 installations/compounds. POVs are NOT authorized. All soldiers arriving in the 2ID are processed at Warrior Replacement Company. Further assignments are made at that time.

A variety of transportation methods are available. The U.S. Army has a contract with a local bus company (Myung Jin) to provide transportation between installations/compounds in the Area I/2ID area at no cost or minimal cost (depending on destination). Myung Jin also provides service to Yongsan (Seoul) and other areas outside of the Area I/2ID area. AAFES provides taxi service at a fairly reasonable cost. Local public transportation is available (bus, taxi, subway, train, and air). Buses run frequently and are the most inexpensive form of transportation. Taxis are plentiful and reasonably priced (meter system charged on time/distance). Trains are frequent and provide excellent service throughout Korea. The Blue Train (Samaul) is the most comfortable, providing dining car service, and the most expensive. Subway service is available in Seoul and to some outlying areas (Inchon and Uijongbu), and in Taegu and Pusan (major cities in Korea to the South of Seoul). Subway cost is based on distance and is a quiet, quick, efficient, and inexpensive way to avoid traffic jams in the major cities. Korean Air and Asiana Air provide service to major cities and tourist areas (this is the fastest but also the most expensive way to travel). However, the price for air travel is still reasonable. Check with your local ACS in Korea for more information.

Medical and Dental Overview

The following information is provided to answer the most commonly asked questions concerning environmental health in the Republic of Korea (ROK). Additional information may be obtained by contacting the 154th Medical Detachment (Preventive Medicine) at 764-4618.

* WATER: Waterborne diseases are a potential source of illness for U.S. personnel stationed in the ROK. Water provided by U.S. military installations is considered potable since it goes through an extensive treatment process. However, water provided by off-post sources should be considered unreliable due to antiquated (and in some cases nonexistent) water treatment plants and distribution systems. Water that may meet U.S. standards at the source may not meet these same standards in your home due to old pipes and plumbing. Therefore, off-post tap water should only be used for bathing, laundering, and dishwashing. On post or bottled water should be used for drinking, cooking, and cooling (ice) whenever possible. Local bottled water sources inspected and approved by U.S. medical personnel include Diamond, Crystal, and Sansu Water Companies.

Since freezing nonpotable water does not disinfect it, off-post ice should also be considered unreliable. Therefore, ice produced from on-post or approved bottled water sources should be used whenever possible.

In emergency situations, questionable water may be disinfected by boiling for 10 or 15 minutes or by mixing 2 or 3 drops of U.S. household bleach to a quart of water. This water should stand for at least 30 minutes before consumption.

* FOOD: Foodborne illnesses are another potential source of illness in the ROK. On-post food products and food service facilities are inspected regularly by U.S. medical personnel and meet U.S. standards. However, off-post standards are generally lower than those enforced on U.S. installations. Therefore, certain precautions should be taken when eating "off of the economy". No seafood, shellfish, meat, poultry, or off products should be eaten raw or partially cooked.

Raw fruits and vegetables should be thoroughly washed or peeled before consumption. Leafy vegetables (such as lettuce and cabbage) should be soaked in a chlorine solution for at least 30 minutes before eating. This solution may be prepared by mixing one tablespoon of household bleach to a gallon of water.

* GENERAL: Other helpful environmental health tips include the following. Many reservoirs, lakes, rivers, streams, and beach areas in the ROK are contaminated due to local waste disposal practices. Therefore, swimming, wading, and bathing in local waterways is not recommended.

The summer months in the ROK are characterized by hot and humid conditions, while the winter months are normally very cold and windy. Some basic preventive medicine measures to prevent hot and cold weather injuries include the following:

- Drink adequate amounts of water in the summer months and protect yourself from sunburn by wearing sunscreen and adequate clothing. In the winter months, wear sufficient clothing in loose layers and protect your extremities by wearing warm gloves, boots, and headgear. Additional seasonal information will be provided in your area.

- There have been tremendous improvements in sanitation in food establishments and you will find many American franchises such as Pizza Hut, McDonalds, Hardee's, and KFC that maintain normal standards.

Family Member Dental Plan

* FAMILY MEMBER DENTAL CARE IS NOT PROVIDED, ONLY EMERGENCY CASES.

The TRICARE Family Member Dental Plan (TFMDP) is a comprehensive and affordable dental plan available to eligible spouses and children of active duty Uniformed Service members. The TFMDP has cost shares, benefit maximums and coverage limitations similar to typical group dental insurance plans. To be eligible for TFMDP enrollment, sponsors must intend to remain on active duty for at least 24 months and this commitment must be confirmed by their parent Uniformed Service. Enrollment and/or changes to enrollment can be accomplished by filling out a DD Form 2494 or 2494-1 at the sponsor's servicing personnel office. Please read these forms carefully as they provide detailed information on enrollment options, limitations and when TFMDP coverage begins. Upon enrollment, the sponsor must pay the monthly premium through their Uniformed Services payroll account - the Government pays 60% of monthly premiums. Before providing care to family members, some dental providers may ask to see a copy of the sponsor's Leave and Earnings Statement showing the dental plan payroll deduction. Coverage is worldwide and portable between assignments. United Concordia Companies, Inc. (UCCI) administers the TFMDP. Detailed TFMDP coverage and enrollment information can be found in the TFMDP benefit booklet. For more information about the program, visit UCCI's web site or contact them at 1-800-866-8499 for information on the TFMDP in the United States, Canada, Guam, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands, or 1-717-975-5017 (toll call) for information on the TFMDP in all other locations. In overseas locations, enrolled sponsors and family members must contact their servicing overseas dental treatment facility and/or Overseas Lead Agent before seeking treatment from host-nation dental providers, except for emergency care.

Housing

Housing Overview

There are NO family quarters available in Area I/2ID. All Division soldiers serve one-year unaccompanied tours and reside in on-post quarters. There is major construction on-going to improve the quality of life of the Soldiers. The old quonset huts are on their way out and new multi-level quarters have been or are being built.

Housing Allowances

Housing allowance information is available from the Per Diem, Travel and Transportation Allowance Committee's Web Site:
Rates and Allowances Home Page	http://www.dtic.mil/perdiem/rateinfo.html
Basic Allowance for Housing	http://www.dtic.mil/perdiem/bah.html
Overseas Housing Allowance	http://www.dtic.mil/perdiem/allooha.html

Government Housing

There is NO housing referral office in the Area I/2ID area. The Area I/2ID area is a non-command sponsored area. There are NO on post government family housing.

Community Housing

The Area I/2ID area is non-command sponsored area located in the Northwestern section of the Republic of Korea. Located within this area of approximately 700 square miles are 42 installations/compounds. All soldiers arriving in the Area I/2ID are processed through the Warrior Replacement Company. Further assignments are made at that time. All soldiers are assigned to single soldier housing (non-command sponsored area). There are a few command sponsored positions within this command. There are no family quarters available and those personnel that are authorized to bring family members usually are authorized quarters at Yongsan or, in some cases Rent Plus. Civilians that are command sponsored or state-side hires are authorized Living Quarters Allowance (LQA).

NOTE: All Off-Post housing that is available is unfurnished (no stove, no refrigerator, no furniture). Initial startup costs are tremendously expensive. At some locations, only one room units are available (sharing of bath and kitchen facilities with other residents, both Korean and American) is not uncommon. Government furnishings are not available.

Off-Post housing in Korea is very different from the U.S. An average house is about 500 sq Ft and will cost approximately $400-600/ month (utilities not included). Stoves and refrigerators are usually not provided by the landlords, but may be part of government furnishings support for off-post rentals. The electrical outlets are 220v as opposed to the 110v in the States. Transformers are available on the economy to allow you to use American appliances/electronics. Transformers range from $30.00 to 80.00 depending on the quality and size. An average family would probably need a 3K transformer for appliances and an additional one if they intend to use an air conditioner, washer/dryer or any other large appliances. There is no potable water off post, however water can be handcarried from post or purchased at on post facilities. A typical heating system in Korea warms the floor rather than the air. The system uses hot water which runs through pipes embedded under the floor. Fuel oil costs depend on how much you use your heating system and hot water. Most heating systems use oil to heat the water. Average cost for heating oil is $100-150.00 per month during winter and $100.00 every 2-3 months during the summer. Gas stoves are available from the furnishings office. Expect to pay a minimal amount for fuel. There are seldom closets in Korean houses. Most people buy closet racks or free-standing closets from either the exchange or the local economy. They range in price from $25.00 (racks) to $500.00 (free-standing closets). There is a telephone line deposit of approximately $270.00. Relocation in Korea can be very costly.

Utilities

Electricity is supplied by the Korea Electric Power Corporation. Every house and apartment has its own meter. Individual rooms in houses or apartments that family members may rent do not have separate meters (the electric bill is shared and charges levied on what the landlord determines you have used). Landlords sometimes charge a higher rate than the Korea Electric Power Corporation. Most houses/apartments are wired for 220 volts. Before using any type of appliance, ensure the electric requirements are compatible. If your electrical appliances do not have dual voltage capability you may need to buy a transformer. If you have a separate meter your bill will be sent to you every month. The cost per kilowatt hour varies depending upon how much you have used. Korea uses a surcharge system to encourage conservation. If you use more than average, your bill will be higher due to the surcharge.

Propane gas service is available through the many local propane gas stores. In Korea, "gas" means propane or LPG gas. Upon calling the selected store, a pressurized gas container will be delivered and hooked up for you. To receive the delivery service, you must first contact the desired store and have the required gas servicing equipment installed. Most homes use a two burner grill which is sold at the local gas equipment store. You are required to pay a deposit for the gas container, and pay for the pipe line material used. Once installed, you only need to call for resupply whenever your gas is running low. The service is very fast and available almost 24 hours a day. The cost for each container varies with the size you need for your home. Some homes or apartments are supplied by city gas with individual meters.

Water is supplied to most houses/apartments from public or private water sources. Billing is direct to you if you have your own meter or may be shared depending on the number of members in your family. Public water may not be suitable for drinking. It is highly recommended that bottled water be used for drinking. The PX and commissary sell bottled water. Authorized bottled water distributors can be contracted for home delivery.

Trash/garbage disposal is provided by local city governments. You are required to have trash sorted and placed in a prepaid plastic bag. See your local ACS in Korea for information.

Telephone service is provided by the Korea Telecommunications Service Corporation. Every city has a service branch. The initial cost for a telephone is expensive. There is a deposit of 220,000 Korean Won (approximately $300.00) to have a phone line installed. The waiting time is approximately one week, depending on the availability of lines. You will get a portion of the deposit back when you cancel the service. Check with the local telephone office in your area in Korea for more information.

Household Goods Weight Allowances

Your weight allowance is the maximum weight that can be moved at government expense under the Joint Federal Travel.

You, not your transportation officer or carrier, are responsible for staying within their weight allowance. If the weight of items packed, shipped or stored exceeds that amount, you must pay all charges connected with the excess weight. For this reason, estimating the weight of your household goods is very important.

Pet Quarantines

Korea no longer requires animal quarantine if documentation and inoculations are current (animals younger than 90 days or vaccination certificate is at least 90 days old and not expired) and made available to Korean authorities upon arrival in Korea. Please ensure all animal documents are in order prior to departing your duty station for Korea.

Name: Pet Care Center
Address: Bldg #5256, South Post, Yongsan (near Gate 17)
City: APO 96205
Phone: 736-6426
Comments: HOURS OF OPERATION: Mon-Fri 1000-1900, Sat 1000-1700, Closed Sunday 1. Organization: The 129th MED DET (VM) along with elements of the 106th MED DET (VS) provide comprehensive animal care to all SOFA status personnel in the Republic of Korea. There are four animal hospitals where veterinarians are permanently stationed (fixed veterinary facility). These are located in Pusan, Osan, Taegu, and Yongsan. The numerous other bases are managed on an attending or referral basis. 2. Capabilities: The capabilities of the facilities in Korea vary in the scope of care that they can provide due to instrumentation and staffing. In general all fixed veterinary facilities are able to provide routine basic medical and surgical care to include emergencies. Complicated cases or cases involving other than routine surgery may be referred to the Yongsan Veterinary Hospital where definitive care can be provided. Clinic hours are determined by the Officer in Charge of the Veterinary Treatment Facility and are based on client demands and other missions. 3. Prior to Arrival a. Owning a pet in Korea is a big responsibility. If you intend to ship a pet to Korea, the first thing you need to do is to contact your local military veterinarian. The veterinarian will give you the rules about shots and other pertinent medical advice. If you have a pet that could be classified as vicious, our advice is that you do not ship this pet to Korea. Additionally, some housing areas may have a restriction on bringing pets and/or the number of pets each family can bring. Check with your sponsor. Make sure that bringing your pet to Korea is what you want to do. b. The next thing you need to do is to contact your sponsor in Korea. The sponsor should contact the local veterinarian and get available information. You should compare what your sponsor gives you with what your local veterinarian tells you and settle any differences. Don't ship your pet guessing whether or not you need something. If you do, when the pet arrives in Korea you may have an enormous challenge and a heavy expense.

c. The following items are required when bringing an animal into Korea.

- Must have a health certificate less than 10 days old when arriving in Korea (the original plus two copies).

- Two copies of orders assigning owner to Korea.

- Bill of lading or certificate of excess baggage, original signed.

- Rabies certificate plus 2 copies. Rabies vaccination must be over 30 days but less than 1 year prior to entry.

d. When preparing your animal's cage for travel, attach the following to the cage:

- One copy of the rabies certificate (not the original).

- One copy of the health certificate.

- One copy of your flight itinerary.

- A feeding schedule for your animal.

- Also attach some of the animal's food for flight and quarantine if your pet is on a special diet.

4. Following is the process of how your pet is handled under normal circumstances for personnel covered under the SOFA.

a. You arrive at Kimpo Airport. You pick up your bags.

5. During quarantine at the Pet Care Center, veterinary service personnel will evaluate the animal and, at the end of the 10 days period, release the animal from quarantine. Upon release from quarantine it is your responsibility to pay all fees as well as to register the animal at the Veterinary Treatment Facility on the base/post to ensure that you receive a new rabies tag to put on the animal in case the animal is lost.

6. On post regulation states that all animals will be on a leash or under strict voice control at all times. Animal bites will be reported to the nearest Medical Treatment Facility. Animals involved in the bite incident will be required to undergo a 10 day quarantine which may be at home, at the Veterinarian's discretion. Animals involved in more than one bite, or animals involved in a serious bite incident may be banned from post. It is your responsibility as an animal owner to keep your pet's vaccinations (rabies) current.

7. Most pet owners are surprised at the cost of boarding services. Below are current charges. They are subject to change. If they change they will increase.

8. Boarding per day. (We can only board cats and dogs)

a. DOGS:

Small $10.00 (12" shoulder height or less)

Medium $15.00 (more than 12" less than 20" shoulder height)

Comments: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Family Advocacy is a prevention program that provides services designed to prevent spouse and child abuse by improving family functioning, easing the kinds of stress that can aggravate or trigger patterns of abuse behavior, and creating a community that is supportive of families. The prevention program is designed to create community and command awareness of abuse, provide information of existing services, and provide specific educational programs. An important part of prevention is that it provides services to eligible families on the installation and in the surrounding civilian communities who have special needs and stresses (e.g., young and inexperienced families, families with closely spaced children, single parent families, lower income families, families with parents who are soon to deploy, families with exceptional members.) - Community education is the first step in identifying, understanding and reporting the problems of abuse. Classes, workshops and other information may be available at your installation. - Services for children and families can help change an abusive home environment. This help may include temporary day care to give parents a break, foster care and homemaker services. The goal is to help ease stress and help families learn better ways of coping with problems. - Parenting and family education can help people learn about child development, parental stress, adolescence and other family issues. The goal is to improve communication and prevent abuse. - Support Groups can bring together people who share common concerns and experiences. They can be an important part of a healthy community. - A Hotline or other reporting system is a way to identify and help families in need. The goal is to help, not punish, those involved. - Programs for battered spouses may include crisis intervention, emergency housing, counseling, legal services and other emergency and long-term help. - Programs for Child and Spouse Abusers can help a person stop hurting loved ones. Self-help and counseling groups can offer education and support for those learning to control violent behavior.

Single Member Services

Area I/2ID has an excellent BOSS program. While in Korea, get involved and help make the community a better place to live.

Name: Better Opportunities for Single and Unaccompanied Soldiers (BOSS)
Address: Bldg #3571, Camp Hovey
City: APO, AP 96224
Phone: 730-1246
Comments: Single soldiers of the Area I/2ID area, the BOSS program provides many activities which may reach your interests. BOSS is also here to help soldiers resolve problems. There is always something to do, but we need your participation. BOSS is a program that represents the well-being of the single and unaccompanied soldier through the chain of command. In short, it is another voice to raise Quality of Life (QOL) issues. BOSS is a soldier operated program that consists of three core components: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Quality of Life issues. Soldiers may raise issues that affect their overall quality of life. QOL for single and unaccompanied soldiers deals primarily with those things that directly or indirectly influence their morale, living environment, or personal growth and development. Some of the issues addressed by BOSS councils include dining facilities, education, fitness center, soldiers' quarters, medical and dental care, commissary, and Army/Air Force Exchange Service. These issues will be consolidated by the Division G1/AG and then forwarded to the appropriate Division staff proponents or staff agencies for resolution. Issues are resolved at the lowest level possible. 2. Recreation and Leisure Activities. Recreation and leisure activities may be planned solely by the BOSS council or in conjunction with other MWR activities. Soldiers assume the primary role in planning BOSS events. Events planned by BOSS councils should meet the needs and desires of single and unaccompanied soldiers. BOSS councils have sponsored events such as soldier talent competitions, concerts, dances and trips. BOSS may also coordinate with installation commercial sponsorship personnel when planning some major events. 3. Community Service. BOSS councils often elect to participate in community programs or projects which make a difference in the lives of others, the community, and ultimately, themselves. It is important to note that service is strictly voluntary. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. The BOSS president will coordinate all volunteer assistance and activities with the installation volunteer coordinator or designated person at 2ID or Area I. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> b. The community service council will ensure soldier volunteer hours are traced for each soldier and by event/program. c. The BOSS members may participate in existing projects or may develop new programs. Examples of programs are: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Care packages 2. MWR 3. Veterans and nursing home visits 4. Special Olympics 5. BOSS Against Drunk Drivers d. BOSS representatives are encouraged to use initiative, creativity, and enthusiasm to determine new projects. e. The BOSS Council will be comprised of an Executive Council, (which includes a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer); and a General Council, which includes the Executive Council and unit representatives from all MSCs and separate units belonging to 2ID/Area I. f. Council members shall be elected to their respective positions for a period of one year or until they reach their DEROS. When BOSS Council meetings include the nomination of, or election to any position, the meeting shall be declared open to all interested single or unaccompanied soldier.

The Area I/2ID Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Program (ADAPCP) provides a full range of screening, treatment, prevention and testing programs to support a sober and drug-free lifestyle for every soldier, civilian, retiree, and family member in the Area I/2ID. Services provided by our ADAPCP staff include:

- Evaluations
- Individual Counseling
- Group Counseling
- Unit Classes
- Qualifying Training for Unit Alcohol and Drug coordinators
- NCOPD/OPD Classes
- Family Counseling
- Drug Testing
- Staff Assistance Visits
- One Day workshops
- Commanders Training

In addition to the main Alcohol and Drug Control Office (ADCO) in Building S-47 in Camp Casey, four Community Counseling Centers (CCC) are operated throughout the division at Camps Casey, Hovey, Howze, and Stanley.

Soldiers requesting help for themselves or someone in their unit should call their local CCC. Soldiers with questions related to prevention education, drug testing or policy issues should call the ADCO at 730-1226.

The fellowship of Alcoholics Anonymous is also active in the 2ID. For times and locations of AA meetings call your local CCC.

In case you're new to Korea and/or the Area I/2ID here are a few local myths and facts.

MYTH: Over here you can drink as much as you want.

FACT: Last year over 700 soldiers in the Area I/2ID I required professional alcohol and drug abuse treatment. Some needed weeks of hospitalization to regain control of their lives. Some ended their military careers right here.

MYTH: Soju is a special kind of alcohol with drugs in it.

FACT: Soju is a traditional distilled liquor with an alcohol content of about 25%. It contains rice, sweet potato, barley and tapioca. No opium, no amphetamines. Trace amounts of formaldehyde in Soju are consistent with the trace amounts present in ALL distilled liquors. It is relatively cheap and therefore quite popular with alcoholics on limited budgets.

MYTH: You don't have to worry about drug testing over here.

FACT: Over 2000 drug tests are accomplished in the 2ID every month. Special testing of 2ID specimens at the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology in D.C. and at the Forensic Toxicology in Hawaii permits detection of 20 categories of drugs. Soldiers with more than 3 years of active duty who test positive for illicit drugs will be processed for administrative separation.

MYTH: If I do have a problem with alcohol or drugs the best thing for me to do is keep it under wraps.

FACT: Alcohol and drug abuse problems rarely go away all by themselves. The longer you keep your "secret" the bigger the troubles when the wraps come off. Our Veterans Hospitals treat thousands of alcohol and drug abusers who refused to ask for help until they went down hard. Many of them now suffer from Organic Brain Damage, Cirrhosis of the Liver and other illnesses directly related to the drinking they did while on active duty.

ASSESSING RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH INTOXICATION

NORMALLY, individuals begin to feel the toxic effects of alcohol at .02 - .04 blood alcohol concentration (BAC), with a flushed sensation, diminished inhibitions and slight impairment to their physical coordination and mental alertness. At .05 - .10, coordination problems become more pronounced, impulse control is impaired and a condition most people would interpret as "under the influence" becomes apparent. In the U.S. Army, a BAC of .05 or above can constitute impaired for duty. At .10-.20, gross impairment with slurred speech, impaired vision, exaggerated emotional responses, and staggering is experienced. At this stage, the risk of intoxicated person injuring themselves or others increases substantially. Falls, fights, pedestrian injuries, and other accidents are common. At .20 - .30, most individuals become disoriented, unable to stand or walk and begin to experience paralysis and loss of consciousness. The experience called "blackout" is most commonly encountered in this range. Vomiting and incontinence are also not unusual. At levels above .30 unresponsive unconsciousness as in a coma, with few or no reflex responses will be encountered. Respiratory and cardiac arrest can occur.

Individuals with a high tolerance to alcohol (such as chronic heavy drinkers or children of alcoholics) will usually experience early signs of impairment at higher BAC's while individuals not used to drinking, fatigued, hungry, or under significant stress will generally become impaired at lower BAC's. For all drinkers, however, alcohol remains a Central Nervous System depressant and with sufficient dosage, its anesthetic effects on the brain are inescapable.

LEGAL ASSISTANCE: Legal assistance services are provided by five attorneys located throughout the 2ID area. These licensed attorneys represent soldiers in a wide variety of legal matters. Legal assistance attorneys can enter into an attorney-client relationship in which all information shared with the attorney is privileged. The information will not be shared with anyone unless you give the attorney permission to provide it to your command, the appropriate agency, court or whoever.

Legal assistance attorneys will assist you in matters relating to family law issues and adverse military personnel issues. Family law issues include marriage and divorce, support obligations, indebtedness, wills and powers of attorney, and court cases arising in the United States. Adverse administrative actions include reports of survey, bars to reenlistment, letters of reprimand, and referred NCOERS and OERS.

If any of these legal matters arise during your tour here in Korea, you should do three things:

1. Act Promptly: Most legal issues are time sensitive. If you fail to meet deadlines, you may forfeit the case or some of your rights. Legal problems do not usually go away on their own, and generally get worse with time. You need to seek legal assistance immediately when faced with a legal problem.

2. Gather all information and paperwork: When you meet with your attorney, bring with you all of the paperwork you have regarding your situation. Provide the attorney with ALL of the facts during your first appointment. Even if the facts are not favorable for you, the attorney must know all of the facts in order to best represent your interests.

3. Follow-up: If the attorney tells you he or she needs some additional information, it is in your best interest to get it quickly. Your delay could end up jeopardizing your legal rights or costing you money.

FOR AN APPOINTMENT, CALL YOUR NEAREST LEGAL ASSISTANCE OFFICE.

CLAIMS: If personal property is damaged or lost during a move or stolen on post, you may recover part of the loss by filling a claim with the claims office. You must realize, however, that not all claims are payable and not all payable claims will be paid in full. The claims program is not a substitute for insurance. The amount and the circumstances under which the claims office can pay is strictly governed by law and regulation. For maximum protection, you should have appropriate insurance on your property. This is especially true for high value items.

If your property is damaged in shipment or stolen, contact your local claims office for assistance in filing a claim.

TRIAL DEFENSE SERVICE: There are five attorneys assigned to the U.S. Army Trial Defense Service (TDS) who support soldiers assigned to the Area I/2d Infantry Division. Each attorney is a law school graduate, a member of a state bar association, and an experienced judge advocate. Their primary mission is to represent soldiers in military justice matters. They are not part of the Division. Their chain of command goes through the Regional Defense Counsel at Eighth Army to Headquarters, Department of the Army. In addition to military justice matters, they assist in other adverse administrative actions such as administrative separations. Appointment are available by calling the following offices:

Survival Tips For First Termers

Survival Tips for First Termers Overview

PLEASE READ ACS PCS TIPS AND PLAN AHEAD!

Contact your Relocation Assistance Program for relocating counseling, post information, and for specific expenses of living in your new post.

Your first overseas assignment will be both a joy and a challenge. Following are several suggestions for you to consider that can make your tour much more the joy than the challenge. These points will be both "Korea" specific and "First Term" specific.

1) Read the section under "Must Know Items" on Korean customs.

2) Talk to Koreans in America. You may well have a fellow soldier that is married to a Korean and more than happy to tell you about her country. In almost all military communities there are Korean stores and businesses. Go and meet some of these people.

3) Go to the library and read about Korea.

4) One thing that is a must to remember "Koreans are not wrong, just different".

Before You Move

Immediately upon receiving your orders, contact the Relocation Assistance Program (RAP) representative at your duty station. A wealth of information is available for your use in preparing for your PCS to Korea.

Reporting Procedures

You are met at the Airport (Kimpo International or Osan AFB) by inprocessing personnel. There is a special customs line for MILITARY. You will Inprocess with the Warrior Replacement Company.

Travel Planning

Coordinate your travel needs early on with your finance and personnel offices. Of course, if you have a family the biggest planning factors will be whether or not they are coming. The living costs are expensive in Korea. Area I/2ID is a Non-Command Sponsored Area.

Vehicle Ownership

In general, first term soldiers will not be allowed to have a POV overseas. Especially Area I/2ID soldiers will not be allowed to have a POV. Bicycle is alternative form of transportation-- and quite helpful (except in the winter). There is a base shuttle bus system for transportation to your job site and around post. You are really better off not having the added cost of a vehicle. Also, driving in Korea is not like driving in the States. The roads are quite crowded and parking is difficult to find and/or expensive. On the other hand public transportation is inexpensive and plentiful.

Housing and Billeting

Single Soldiers billeting only is available in Area I. There are no on post family housing.

Money Matters

Korea can be a place to save money--many have. This only happens, though, with careful planning and determination. Making an allotment to a savings account so you never see the money in your check is a good step. You do need money for recreation and sight seeing. Korea is much more expensive than your "old timer" buddies may remember. In the last 5 years the bus fare has doubled twice.
